

Are you concerned about pollution?

Do you want to reduce health risks in your community?

Committee for a Better Arvin,
Center on Race, Poverty, & the Environment,
Dolores Huerta Foundation,
California Environmental Protection Agency, and U.S. Environmental Protection Agency are pleased to invite you to attend:

Tools and Resources to Help Communities Fight Pollution

Date: June 6, 2008
• Workshop 1: 2:00-4:30 PM
• Workshop 2: 6:30-9:00 PM

Two identical workshops will be held, so pick the time that works best for you!

Location: St. Thomas Church
350 E. Bear Mountain Blvd (State Route 223)
Arvin, California

The workshop will help you learn about:

- Opportunities to apply for EPA and other funds
- Steps for putting together a successful grant application
- Tools and resources for accessing information on environmental risks in your community
- Ideas on how to use this information for community-based decision-making and action

To RSVP for Workshop 1 or 2 or to request a reasonable accommodation, please call toll-free 1-877-298-7915 or email EPAWorkshops@ross-assoc.com. You may leave a message in English or Spanish.

For more information, please call Kerry Drake at US EPA: drake.kerry@epa.gov; 415-947-4157.

Light food and refreshments will be served
